PART XIII

We began looking into a new chapter titled, The Spider. In this chapter we learn that Allah admonishes his followers to disobey parents. This is exactly opposite of what the Bible teaches, isn't it? Here is the passage on page 193. 'We have enjoined man to show kindness to his parents. But if they bid you serve beside Me what you know nothing of, do not obey them.'

Again you are reminded on page 194, at the top of the page, 'He punishes whom He will and shows mercy to whom He pleases.' ... 'Those that disbelieve, His revelations and deny that they will ever meet Him shall despair of My mercy. Theirs shall be a woeful punishment.' blah blah blah some Torah Tales and then, as you near the bottom of the page, you get this little gem, which, now let me see, have we heard this before? 'But his people's only reply was: 'Bring down Allah's scourge upon us, if what you say be true.' The tale of Lot is spoken of and then near the top of the next page you read, yet once again, 'WE shall bring down a scourge from heaven upon the people of this town to punish them for their sins.' ... 'On some WE sent down a violent whirlwind; others were seized by the Dreadful Cry: some were swallowed up by the earth, and yet others were overwhelmed by the Flood. Allah did not wrong them but they wronged themselves.' ... Next page: ... 'They challenge you to hasten Our scourge. But the day will surely come when Hell will encompass the unbelievers; when Our scourge will assail them from above and from beneath, and Allah will say to them: "Taste the reward of your own deeds."' Then you are again told about how nice it is in Paradise for the believers and then on Page 197 you are again reminded that Allah gives abundantly to whom he pleases and not so much if you piss him off. 'He has knowledge of all things,' don't you know?

In the Islamic ideology you are supposed to not appreciate this life very much. It is worthless according to the Koran. It is the life hereafter which only has value and to which Muslims must aspire. 'The life of this world is but a sport and a pastime. It is the life to come that is the true life: if they but knew it.' Page 197. Before the Spider finishes, Allah says, 'Is there not a home in Hell for the unbelievers?' Oh, I almost forgot about the creature, since it is not spoken of in more than the following in the middle of the chapter: 'The false gods which the idolaters serve besides Allah may be compared to the spider's cobweb. Surely the spider's is the frailest of all dwellings, if they but knew it.' That's it. An entire chapter is titled, The Spider and out of five and a half pages you get a tiny little mention of said creature. If Allah was in my English class I would be writing that comment on his Spider paper. If you are going to title a chapter thusly, then write about a spider instead of about some ancient Torah Tales. Oh, yes, I suppose there is a spidery reference on page 196 when Allah talks about Jews; the People of the Book. Those creatures are spider like in that they are a yucky infestation of verminous folk; not human, allegedly, same as Muslims and yet, not, in that Jews are smarter and not stuck in the 7th Century A.D.

'Be courteous when you argue with the People of the Book, except with those among them who do evil. Say: "We believe in that which is revealed to us and which was revealed to you. Our God and your God is one. To Him we surrender ourselves.'" Pg. 196

This is an amazing bit of revelation in the Koran because it clearly states that Allah is Satan. If the God of the Jews and the God of the Muslims is the same. Jesus of Nazareth, the quintessential expert on things Judaic, called those creatures: 'The Children of Satan and the Sons of the Devil.' Judging from the behaviour of both groups I will agree with Jesus. It is obvious that those creatures; those barbaric savages are indeed, hellish beings intent upon death and destruction.

Christians are the other People of the Book. So, now we have a dilemma, which People of the Book's God is Mohammed talking about? This is a very important point because Muslims could argue that Allah is the same God Whom Christians call, Father. By now you should have a pretty good idea that is not the case. Allah is not an entity I call, Father.

We need to spend a bit more time on this very important theological point. You surely realize that the Old Testament and the New Testament of the Book called, The Bible are incompatible with each other. The OT is the Jewish oil and the NT is the much more clear water in which some of the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth can be seen every now and then as the water bubbles and burbles in the Christian stream. As you know from rudimentary chemistry experiments, oil and water do not mix.

Christianity and Islam are both religions which sprang from Talmud influenced minds. First came the former thanks to a disgusting, vile Talmudist who murdered a whole lot of innocent people and then managed to convince gullible, mostly illiterate, humans that he had seen a light and was saved by the Father of Jesus of Nazareth. Talmudists are very well trained in gobbly gook; they are masters of the smooze and Doctors of Sophistry. Saul of Tarsus was brilliant at it and invented a religion which teaches that Our Dear Father in Paradise; Our Loving Creator; The Source of Everything Good, Beautiful, and True demanded a bloody sacrifice of a Creator Son in order to be moved to forgive our sins. That is the BIGGEST LIE EVER TOLD and a Jewish abomination. The second huge lie that the disgusting Judaic taught was the claptrap about Jews being superior creatures, better than everyone else because they were supposedly specially chosen by God. THAT IS TOTAL 1000% NONSENSE! Why anyone even bought into that is a wonder to me and always has been. Hence, Jewish claims to a home land based on God's philanthropy are absolute lies. You see that don't you? My Father in Heaven Does Not Chose Favorites. You are all His Children, except the minions of Lucifer, who are the Muslims and the Jews.

In recent history a Truth Warrior was sent to the planet again, but, just like when my Older Brother, Jesus of Nazareth was here, Adolf Hitler was essentially crucified as well because, just like Jesus, Adolf taught the Truth about Jewish malfeasance. And, Adolf Hitler never advocated extermination of those creatures. Indeed the policy of the National Socialist Government of Germany in those glorious days when that nation saw a dream come true and a Paradise unfolding until the International Jews and their retarded, vicious minions did what they did and reduced a once proud nation to rubble; the policy was RELOCATION. Uganda was talked about, but Madagascar was the favorite choice. Alas that plan never materialized. We could have kept them all under observation as the island would be surrounded by our navies. Had that happened, we would not now be facing the Muslim Invasion as we are. Entire boat loads of well dressed, cell phone packing chimp hybrids amongst which are seeded, Jews in Muslim's clothing, balaclavas, and so forth to be cont.
